

Quilting Resource Center

Rules for Membership

1. Help us Create a Community: Please be supportive and uplifting in all your comments to others on the site. We want our community to be one where everyone is free to share their ideas to help us all.
2. Refunds: If you cancel within the first month, we will refund your first month's payment and cancel your subscription. If you cancel at any time after that, we will simply stop billing your subscription fee. Once you go past the first month there is NO REFUND for any of the past months' subscription payments.
3. Copyrights: The material we provide you remains the property of the Quilting Resource Center. All materials are copyrighted, so even though we give them to you free, please only make a copy for your personal use and do not distribute them to friends. We know you mean well, but the people who have created this work appreciate your help in protecting our copyrights. This applies to third party individuals who have written articles, provided patterns, etc. for your use. We have given credit to them and we ask that you will show respect their work as well. Remember, you pay for access to this site, its materials and community, but you don't own any of it and cannot use the information for commercial purposes.
4. Video and Audio Usage: You may take the MP3's we provide on the site and convert them into audio CD's for playing on a regular stereo. You may also transfer those MP3's to ONE portable MP3 player such as an iPod. You may never sell, give, or share those CD's or MP3's or our videos with anyone. (see #3 above)
5. Membership Cancellation: We reserve the right to cancel your membership – If we ever feel for any reason it's not in our mutual best interest or in the best interest of the Quilting Resource Center community to continue your subscription, we reserve the right to cancel your subscription.
